The HUCO has begun soliciting expressions of interest from other Canadian Harvard Clubs in order to help start organizing a fundraising campaign.

The Board generally welcomed the initiative. However, a number of questions were raised. G Poliquin and other Board members expressed concerns at the various legal aspects of the initiative. H-R Zhou asked about the composition of the selection committee and whether Canadian donors would receive a Canadian tax receipt. M Novakoff suggested that more information should be provided regarding the scholarship criteria. M Carter asked whether graduate students would be eligible to apply for the scholarship.

A Du Sault agreed to follow up with Lewis Auerbach.

A Du Sault invited the Board members to start thinking about volunteering ideas for the Club’s participation to next year’s edition of Harvard’s Global Month of Service.

The Board also discussed plans to approach Marcel Aubut, the President of the Canadian Olympic Committee, Madelaine Drohan, the Canada correspondent for the Economist, and, finally, a prominent member of the Catholic Church in Québec, for the Club’s Brown Bag series.

A Du Sault mentioned that Canadian Ambassador to China Guy St-Jacques will be in Montreal in August. During his visit, the Club could organize a lunch or dinner for Club members interested in meeting Mr St-Jacques. Another similar lunch or dinner could also be organized with the participation of Brian Mulroney who could be invited to discuss current and future challenges for Canada.

The Board considered the idea that Alumni members from other Ivy League schools such as the MIT could be invited to some of the Club events.

A Du Sault also invited the Board members to start thinking about an important Club social event that Alumni members from outside Montreal would be interested in attending.

A Du Sault mentioned about upcoming Club events: an HBS panel on venture capital in Quebec (8 April), a HUCO/HCQ luncheon with the Ambassador of Peru at the Museum of Fine Arts (13 April), and the next Bown Bag on China (23 April).
